

SimpleCommentSystem 1.0

Copyright 2009. shiz

This software is released under the LGPL.

SimpleCommentSystem is an easy to use comment system that does not rely on databases and simply uses text files to store the comments. It is easy to implement and ensures that the comments are stripped of all html before storing them. The html appears inside a `div` tag with the id of `comment` so any styles that need to be applied can be applied.

Usage:

This release contains two files:

- `comment.php`
- `postcomment.php`

To use, place the following lines of text where you want to use it.

```
<?php
    include ("comment.php");
    comment ("index");
?>
```

where `index` is the name of the page that will contain the comments.
